Obituary

Mrs. Maxcie Lampton Dillon, born July 23, 1895, the oldest daughter of the late Mack and Elizabeth Lampton, expired November 30, 1982.

She confessed Christ at an early age, uniting with the St. Marks A.M.E. Church of Fernwood, Mississippi. After moving to another neighborhood, she transferred her membership to New Home Missionary Baptist Church.

In 1915 she united in Holy Matrimony with Wallace Dillon, they later changed their membership to Society Hill Missionary Baptist Church of McComb, Mississippi.

In May of 1948 her husband passed away leaving her widowed with six children from this union, of which three preceded her in death, Cornelia Mingo and Thelma Sanford of Chicago, Ill., and Wallace L. Dillon of Laurel, Miss.; leaving to mourn her passing three sons, Caldwell Dillon of Chicago, Ill., Edward Dillon of Kenner, La., Maxwell Dillon of Sumter, South Carolina, and a very devoted niece, Mrs. Vivian Conerly, who nursed and remained at her side through the final months of her life; thirteen grandchildren, 23 great-grandchildren, three sisters, Rovilla Taylor of McComb, Miss., Julia Stansberry, and Nola Dillon of Los Angeles, California; two brothers, Charles Lampton of Los Angeles, and Bickham Lampton of Hammond, Louisiana, and a host of other relatives and friends.

Now, he has gone to a better home where there will be no more sickness, no sorrows, no pains to bear, only peace, sweet peace.
